

Organization for Responsible Governance

Pathway to the Polls: 2026 Voter Insight Tool

Goal: To empower every Bahamian voter with the tools to evaluate political parties on the issues that actually affect their lives. Use the tracker below to objectively assess each party vying to lead our next administration and decide for yourself who has truly earned your vote.

How to use this tool: Start with a question you care about, you can pick any issue that matters to you and your family. Then, find out where each party actually stands by searching their manifestos, speeches, and credible news coverage. Rate the strength of their position honestly, then draw your own conclusion.

- Step 1: Pick a question from the tracker that matters to you, or ask your own.
- Step 2: Research each party's stance and paste a credible source to back it up.
- Step 3: Rate their position using this scale:
- Step 4: Write your honest thoughts and the conclusions you came to in the notes box.

Question	PLP Stance	Credible Source	Rating	FNM Stance	Credible Source	Rating	COI Stance	Credible Source	Rating	Notes/Thoughts

Suggested Questions: Not sure where to start? You're not alone, analyzing political campaigns can feel overwhelming at first. A helpful approach is to break things down into key themes and guiding questions. You can start by looking at areas like: Healthcare, The Economy, Crime and Public Safety, Education, The Environment, Housing and Infrastructure, or Governance and Transparency

Credible Sources: A credible source is any piece of information that is trustworthy, accurate, and backed by evidence. It typically comes from authors or institutions with expertise, uses verifiable data, and is transparent about where its information comes from. Credible sources are important because they help you form informed opinions, avoid misinformation, and make sound decisions, especially when analyzing issues like political campaigns or public policy. You can usually recognize a credible source by its reputation, use of facts and citations, balanced perspective, and accountability to the public.

Organization for Responsible Governance

Pathway to the Polls: 2026 Voter Insight Tool

Goal: To empower every Bahamian voter with the tools to evaluate political parties on the issues that actually affect their lives. Use the tracker below to objectively assess each party vying to lead our next administration and decide for yourself who has truly earned your vote.

How to use this tool: Start with a question you care about, you can pick any issue that matters to you and your family. Then, find out where each party actually stands by searching their manifestos, speeches, and credible news coverage. Rate the strength of their position honestly, then draw your own conclusion.

- Step 1: Pick a question from the tracker that matters to you, or ask your own.
- Step 2: Research each party's stance and paste a credible source to back it up.
- Step 3: Rate their position using this scale:
- Step 4: Write your honest thoughts and the conclusions you came to in the notes box.

Constituency:
	PLP Candidate name:			FNM Candidate name:			COI Candidate name:			Independent candidate name:
Question	Stance	Credible Source	Rating	Stance	Credible Source	Rating	Stance	Credible Source	Rating	Stance	Credible Source	Rating	Notes/Thoughts

Suggested Questions: Analyzing political campaigns can feel overwhelming at first. A helpful approach is to break things down into key themes and guiding questions. You can start by looking at areas like: Healthcare, The Economy, Crime and Public Safety, Education, The Environment, Housing and Infrastructure, Or Governance and Transparency.

Credible Sources: A credible source is any piece of information that is trustworthy, accurate, and backed by evidence. It typically comes from authors or institutions with expertise, uses verifiable data, and is transparent about where its information comes from.